HIGHER EDUCATION ACT, 1997 (Act No. 101 of 1997)

INSTITUTIONAL STATUTE
STELLENBOSCH UNIVERSITY

I, Dr BE Nzimande, Minister of Higher Education, Science and Technology, in accordance with section 33 (1) of the Higher Education Act, 1997 (Act No. 101 of 1997, as amended), hereby publish an amended Institutional Statute of Stellenbosch University set out in the Schedule hereto.

Dr BE Nzimande, MP

Minister of Higher Education, Science and Technology

Date: 10/07/2019

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

[This introductory note explains the context for the Statute, but does not form part of the Statute.]

1. The Statute is the constitution of Stellenbosch University. The Statute provides the foundational structures and processes within which the values, ideals and principles driving the University are being conducted and pursued. It binds together the various sectors comprising the University, and sets the tone for all decision-making and academic and administrative activity. The Statute describes the composition, powers, and functioning of the various bodies established by the Statute, and the election or appointment, and the powers, of the office bearers created by the Statute. In short, the Statute provides the institutional framework within which the effective governance and administration of the University are conducted.
2. The Statute is subject to the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996, and may also not be inconsistent with the Higher Education Act, 1997. Within the University, the Statute is its foundational document. All rules, policies or other instruments made by University bodies and functionaries are therefore subject to the Statute.
3. As the constitution of the University, the focus of the Statute is on the institutional architecture of the University, and it does not provide for all the particulars in respect of the governance and administration of the University. Section 32(1)(b) of the Higher Education Act, 1997, supports this approach by providing for the making of institutional rules to give effect to detail aspects of the Statute. Some institutional rules are already in place, but in due course more institutional rules will be made to flesh out the Statute.
4. Consequently, the general approach in the Statute is to confer on the University, or a particular body or functionary, the necessary authority to do something. Put differently, it confers the final responsibility for a power or duty on a particular body or functionary, but it does not necessarily indicate how that power or duty is to be executed or performed, and even by whom. Throughout, it is assumed that through delegation powers and duties are often, if not mostly, exercised and performed by other functionaries and bodies than those carrying the final responsibility. In support of this approach, the Statute provides for the general delegation of all powers and duties, unless expressly prohibited by the Statute or the Higher Education Act, 1997. In this sense, the Statute is a flexible and common-sense document which accommodates acceptable and effective decision-making processes and procedures generally found in large entities.

5. As stated clearly in the Preamble and clause 5, the Statute is based on certain fundamental principles. The various governing structures and office bearers function in accordance with the principles of democratic representation and accountable governance. The Statute determines the framework for the exercise of decision-making powers, and ensures that powers and duties are performed lawfully and effectively, in accordance with the democratic spirit and intent of the Statute. The Statute commits the University to open, transparent, responsible and accountable governance and administration and contains various checks and balances to ensure this.

6. From a drafting point of view, it is believed that the Statute is a logical and accessible document, drafted in language and style that is simple and easy to understand, and in all essential respects accurate and legal. It is believed that the Statute is a clear, streamlined and effective document ideally suited to serve the University as it embraces the opportunities ahead. The Statute will promote good, ethical, open and accountable leadership, governance and administration, and will bind together the University community in its pursuit of academic and administrative excellence that benefits society as a whole.

- (3) A student who is admitted to and registered at the University continues to be a student of the University for the duration of the academic programme, or until the time the student or the University terminates the registration in accordance with the rules.
- (4) In order to continue with studies at the University, a student must reregister annually in accordance with the rules.
- (5) A student whose studies have been interrupted without permission for a year or longer must apply anew for admission in order to be reregistered.
- (6) The Council, after consultation with the Senate, may set requirements for the readmission of a student and may refuse to allow readmission unless such requirements are met.
- (7) A person who has been admitted to the University, and demonstrates the intention to be associated with the University as a student by using University facilities or participating in University activities, is subject to the rules, even if the person has not yet registered as envisaged in subclause (1).

Discipline

CHAPTER 8

QUALIFICATIONS AND HONORARY DEGREES

Authority of University

58. (1) The University may confer and award the qualifications determined by the Council on the recommendation of the Senate, and which have been approved, accredited and registered in accordance with the Act and other applicable legislation, and which are contained in the rules.
- (2) Subject to clause 60, no qualification may be conferred on or awarded to a person who has not:
- (a) been registered as a student of the University for the period prescribed by the Senate in the rules; and
 - (b) completed the work and attained the standard of proficiency determined through assessment as required by the Senate and prescribed in the rules.
- (3) The Senate may exempt a person in terms of the rules from requirements for a qualification in respect of attendance and examinations in the case of a student who has graduated or obtained a qualification from, or completed a module at, another faculty at the University or another higher education institution.
- (4) Subject to section 65BA of the Act, the Council, with the concurrence of the Senate, may revoke a degree or withdraw a diploma, certificate or other qualification:
- (a) obtained through plagiarism, fraud, bribery or any other dishonest act; or
 - (b) that was conferred or awarded on the basis of a material error on the part of the University, but a revocation or withdrawal on this basis may not take place later than two years after the qualification was conferred or awarded.

Congregation

- 59. (1) Qualifications must be conferred and awarded at a meeting of the University, called a congregation, which the registrar must call at a time, place and in a manner determined in the rules.
- (2) The chancellor or, in the absence of the chancellor, the rector or a vice-rector nominated by the rector, presides at the congregation.
- (3) A qualification may not be conferred or awarded unless the registrar has certified and the Senate has been satisfied that the requirements for the qualification have been met.
- (4) A person is not entitled to the privileges of a qualification until it has been conferred or awarded at a congregation. If a student has met the academic requirements for a degree or diploma and the degree or diploma certificate has not yet been issued, the registrar may issue a document stating that the student has met the academic requirements for the degree or diploma and that the certificate will be issued in accordance with the rules.
- (5) A qualification may be conferred or awarded in the relevant person's absence, or posthumously.

GENERAL

Rules

- 61. The registrar must publish rules made by the Council in terms of clause 10(3)(b), or rules made by another body in terms of a delegation under clause

10(6), after which the rules are enforceable in the University. The registrar must make known in the yearbook of the University or elsewhere the manner and form in which the rules of the University may be accessed.

Effect of vacancies

- 62. (1) No vacancy in the membership of a body established by or under this Statute impairs the capacity of that body to exercise its powers and perform its functions in terms of and in accordance with the Act or this Statute.
- (2) Subclause (1) does not set aside a quorum requirement, or a requirement of a minimum number of votes for a decision, or the requirement that reasonable steps be taken to fill a vacancy in the membership of a body established by or under this Statute as soon as possible.

Delegations

- 63. (1) A body or office bearer on whom a power or function is conferred by or in terms of this Statute may delegate, on such terms or conditions as such body or office bearer may determine, that power or function to another body, office bearer or staff member of the University, unless the Act or this Statute precludes the delegation.
- (2) A body or office bearer to whom a power or function is delegated in accordance with this Statute may sub-delegate such power or function only in terms of an authority contained in the delegation itself or otherwise with the prior approval of the body or office bearer on whom the power or function has originally been conferred.
- (3) A body or office bearer that has delegated any power or function remains responsible for the exercise of the powers and the performance of the functions so delegated, and may withdraw the delegation or amend the terms and conditions of the delegation at any time.
- (4) The body or office bearer to whom a power or function is delegated in accordance with this Statute must, in the manner and form and at the intervals determined by the delegating body or office bearer, report to the delegating body or office bearer.

- (5) The registrar must keep an up-to-date register of delegations made under or in terms of this Statute. The registrar must make known in the yearbook of the University or elsewhere the manner and form in which the terms of the delegations may be accessed.

Transitional provisions

- 64. (1) A body and office bearer provided for in this Statute that existed prior to the commencement of this Statute, continues to exist or hold office, and exercise the powers and perform the functions which they have exercised and performed prior to the commencement of this Statute, but they must comply with this Statute within 24 months after its commencement.
- (2) Anything done, commenced, instituted or in the process of being finalised under the previous Statute is deemed to have been done, commenced, instituted or in the process of being finalised under the corresponding provision of this Statute or the rules.
- (3) The rules in force at the commencement of this Statute continue to apply until they are replaced or repealed.
- (4) The Council may take any step necessary as a transitional measure to ensure the effective implementation of this Statute.

Amendment of Statute

- 65. (1) Subject to sections 32(2) and 33(1) of the Act, the Council may amend this Statute by a two-thirds majority of all its members.
- (2) Only a member of the Council may introduce an amendment to this Statute. A proposal for an amendment may be tabled if written notice was given by the registrar to all the members of the Council at least 14 calendar days before the meeting at which the proposal is to be introduced, unless a two-thirds majority of the members present vote in favour of disposing with the requirement of prior notice.
